

Bible history

Let's look at what the bible has to say about creation and the early years of man's existence on earth.

1. The earth was made on day one and the sun, moon and stars were created on day four. (Gen. 1)
2. At the beginning of creation until the time of the global flood people were living for 900 plus years. (Gen. 5)
3. There was a global flood. (Gen. 6-8)

An evolutionist must reject these historical facts and many other bible truths in Gen. 1-11 based on their belief in Naturalism. There is no way to harmonize their view of history with what the bible teaches. So if a religious leader chooses to believe in evolution, they must first reject the account of man's early history in Gen. 1-11. However, these same people accept the historical facts taught in the rest of the bible. They view the period of time from Abraham (Gen. 12) to the end of the New Testament as "real history". Their lack of consistency is rather striking. If the bible is fallible in Genesis, why shouldn't it be fallible elsewhere?

Their belief in evolution keeps them from believing in the creation account and a global flood, and yet they say they believe in the virgin birth and the resurrection. If someone starts from an evolutionary point of view they cannot believe in a virgin birth or the resurrection. In fact, they cannot believe in any supernatural event.

Jim Levick